

HealthScribe, Inc. Announces Strategic Alliance with MDAnywhere.com, Inc. To Provide Outsourced Medical Transcription Services

Outsourced Medical Transcription Service Enhances MDAnywhere's Ability to Deliver Enterprise Point-of-Care Solutions to Health Care Providers Via the Internet

STERLING, Va. & BALTIMORE--(BW HealthWire)--Aug. 28, 2000-- HealthScribe, Inc. announced today that it has entered into an agreement with MDAnywhere.com, Inc. to provide outsourced transcription services through the MDAnywhere.com Enterprise Point-of-Care clinical portal.

The partnership will help facilitate the effective exchange of information and capture clinical to improve the quality of care.

Rudy Rai, MD, Founder and President of MDAnywhere states, "Finally, physicians in practice can do away with paper based records without resorting to expensive and cumbersome Electronic Medical Record (EMR) systems. Our relationship with HealthScribe allows us to provide Internet-based, state-of-the-art point-of-care dictation capture, and high quality and efficient transcription that interfaces directly with our secure repository."

Michael King, CEO of HealthScribe states, "Our strategic partnership with MDAnywhere.com will allow the physicians to access their transcribed reports online for editing, signature and data management. The reports will become part of the patients medical record and will help physicians by decreasing administrative work and provide more time for patient care."

About HealthScribe

HealthScribe's internet based outsourced medical transcription service provides health information management departments with an end-to-end information solution that enables customers to effectively address their key concerns - achieving superior quality transcription while reducing overhead costs.

By improving communications and management in this critical area, the HealthScribe system helps reduce delays and errors, enabling healthcare professionals to make the most efficient use of their expensive resources. <http://www.healthscribe.com>

About MDAnywhere.com

MDAnywhere is a leading provider of e-Health, Enterprise Point-of-Care Solutions that provide seamless integration of disparate clinical applications and effective information exchange within an enterprise to facilitate the continuum of care.

MDAnywhere delivers Internet and mobile technologies that provide dramatic cost-saving, life-saving, and timesaving solutions to the practice of medicine. <http://www.mdanywhere.com>

Contact:

HealthScribe, Inc.
Steven Russell, Chief Marketing Officer, 888/591-9985
steven.russell@healthscribe.com or

MDAnywhere.com, Inc.
Marshall Maran, Senior VP, Operations, 888/MDA-4488
mmaran@mdanywhere.com